

ELIE, Eastern Long Island Executives is an active networking organization, which for over 30 years has been dedicated to the promotion of business on the East End of Long Island.

We are an organization of dynamic successful professionals helping local businesses to network and develop working relationships that improve everyone's bottom line. We work together and individually on a common ground that is for the benefit of Eastern Long Island, as well as for the business and professional activities of all members.

We are accepting membership from all businesses interested in promoting their services to the local community. You can become a member of ELIE by simply advertising on our web site. We encourage all businesses to take advantage of this opportunity & participate by promoting your business through this forum.

We are also accepting membership for our "Breakfast Club" networking group which meets once per month at a breakfast meeting. This exclusive club's purpose is to share business referrals with each other and is represented by one of each industry. To become a member of the Breakfast Club, you must be an advertiser on ELIE's web site, attend our monthly meetings, and the business category must be open & not in conflict with any existing members. For further details please contact Jack Laadt at (631) 878-2853 or Scott Behr, at (516)458-4448.
